IS BURDEN BEARER

THE POLISH PEASANT WOMAN IS SLAVE FOR HUSBAND.

DAY WAGES 16 CENTS

American Woman Has Great Reason for Gratitude, Says Mrs. Joel Hayden.

"The American woman has, I believe, greater reason for gratitude than any other person in all the world. I knew, just as all American women know, that we are the best positioned women in the world, due to our Christian civilization, but it was not until I went to Poland for a year's stay that I came to realize the deep respect, the honor, the esteem, the reverence and love the American man has for the American woman. And I wish it were in my power to bring to her knowledge the full value of her place in his life and thought."

This is the conclusion of Mrs. Joel Hayden, who arrived in Maryville a few weeks ago from Poland, and will remain a while longer with her mother, Mrs. F. M. Petty.

Rev. Hayden left our city Friday night for Baltimore to receive his appointment for work among the Poles of that city at the hands of the Presbyterian home mission board, under whose direction he and Mrs. Hayden went to Poland for study.

"The Polish peasant woman is the burden bearer for her country. She is used instead of machinery in the fields, and her husband would not even think of carrying so much as the smallest package for her, while leading the way to the market place, or wherever they happened to be going. And many a time have I seen her body bent nearly at right angles with a great heavy basket strapped on her back, while her husband walked tall, straight and complacent before her."

"One day Mr. Hayden had some business with a Polish clergyman, who had translated the Bible into the Polish language and was in the employ of the British Bible society. We met at the market place and he asked us to wait a little while, as he said his wife, who was off making some purchases, would be along presently. By and by she came, loaded down with bundles of various kinds and a large basket filled with things beside."

"Mr. Hayden at once relieved her of as many things as he could, while she protested all the time, and started off with them to their home. Her husband, and he a minister, mind you, did not offer to relieve her of anything, and was visibly annoyed because Mr. Hayden took some of her bundles."

Very soon he asked Mr. Hayden to give the bundles to his wife, because people were laughing and he was attracting attention. But, I am happy to say, Mr. Hayden went right on carrying the bundles, saying it was the American way and that he could not accustom himself to any other way. This minister and his wife had eight children and they live on $300 per year. Don't ask me how they did it, because I do not know."

"We lived in the village Crawcow, province of Galicia, or Ancient Poland. The Protestant church there has a membership of 4,000, all peasants from the entire countryside. We lived in the home of a peasant widow, where we cooked our breakfasts and suppers on her kitchen stove. We took our dinners with the pastor and his wife. This peasant woman was such a thoroughly good and devout woman. She earned and lived on $40 a year. She worked in the field, as all peasant women do, and the man she worked for gave her a strip of land about three feet wide across this field and on this she raised potatoes and cabbage, her living."

"Cabbage and potatoes are the principal diet of the peasants, and they cook them in many ways. Their sauer kraut is much better than what is made here."

"The women get up at 4 o'clock every morning and go to the field, then return and have breakfast about 7 or 8, go to the field again and at 10 have another breakfast of bread, cottage cheese and coffee. Then dinner at noon and to the fields again. They return early and their housework and care of their children are done at these odd times, and they go to bed early."

"The Poles are the greatest lovers of their own country and their own people. There is a deep unrest among them and has been for years. There is not enough land to sustain them, and by the time a piece of land has been divided into strips, a peculiar way of their own, among fathers and sons for four or five generations the question of maintaining a family is indeed serious. They want freedom, and although they have come and are still coming to America by the thousands, it is their one desire to return again to their own country. The average wage a woman receives for her work is 16 cents a day, and a servant in a house receives an average salary of $2 per month, while $3 a month is extra good, and $4 a month is a magnificent salary."

"Their language is not hard to learn. It is phonetic and when you learn their words you can spell them right away and know their meaning."

"The peasants are the good people of Poland. We lived with them to learn their ways and to get their point of view, and they are certainly worth working with."

"The wealthy class in Poland are almost unapproachable. Proud, arrogant, suspicious, they repel every advance of the good intentioned. They are highly cultured, are great churchgoers. They are exceptional linguists and speak eight or ten languages fluently, changing from one to the other easily in ordinary conversation. They are striking in appearance, have beautiful eyes and slender, highly sensitive features of the type of Chopin and Paderewski, and other great masters in music. They are pleasure loving, music loving and patriotic. Yet the Pole of high cast has no more regard for his wife or any other woman than the peasant, but he shows it in a different way. He would not near regard her as his equal. He gives her the same care and regard that we do a pet kitten. The women are beautiful and highly cultured as a rule and lovely dressers. Yet there is not a law in the country for their protection, peasant or high class."

"The peasant women are fond of gay colors in their dressing and choose the most vivid colors they can find, and you can tell from what province they are by this dress. The young girls and young women are extremely pretty and fresh looking, but their beauty lasts but a short time, for the grind of labor in the fields soon breaks them and they become old while still young in years. The coloring in their dress furnishes the only brightness in the country districts, and the brown and barren looking land makes a good setting for the bright colors they wear."

"The Polish men think much more of the American woman's dress than he does of the native dress of the Polish women, and the first thing he does when he meets her at the New York landing, for nearly all of the peasant women follow their husbands here, is to buy her a dress that she may look as near as possible like an American woman, and he tries as well as he knows how to show the attention American men pay their wives."

There are 2,000,000 Poles in the United States, double the number of any slavish peoples here. In Baltimore, where Rev. and Mrs. Hayden will work, there are 30,000, and the number in Chicago is estimated at 300,000.

These are a few of the things heard a few evenings ago in a conversation with Mrs. Hayden.

SCHOOL BOARD MET.

Allowed Teachers' Salaries and Other Bills and Considered Routine Matter.

The school board met Monday night in the office of Superintendent W. M. Westbrook in the school building. Only routine matters were taken up and the teachers' salaries and a number of bills were allowed.

A new desk and chair is to be purchased for the superintendent's office by the board. It was also decided to build a nine-inch wall in the boys' toilet room and the new room will be used for the janitor's supplies. It was thought best to construct a suitable building independent of the high school building for storing all inflammable materials. If a ready built building can be had the board will take that.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Sister of Mrs. D. C. Wilson Was on Shipwrecked Launch When It Turned Over in Sea.

Word was received in Maryville by Mrs. D. C. Wilson of the narrow escape her sister, Mrs. George H. Wilson, had from drowning last week when a launch, Balboa, turned over in the sea. The launch was in Newport bay, off the coast near Balboa, Cal.

An account of the accident says that George H. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson were clinging to the disabled launch when a boat came to their rescue. Wilson's head and arm were bruised, but Mrs. Wilson was not injured except being badly frightened. There were twenty passengers on the launch and they all had a narrow escape. The launch struck a bar in Newport bay, causing it to turn over.

GIVES AWAY MORE FARMS.

The Newest Government Land Lottery Opened on Monday—The Land is in Northwest Nebraska.

Uncle Sam's newest land lottery was opened to the public officially on Monday. At that time those in charge will instruct the notaries to begin acknowledging affidavits for registrants.

Beside the abandoned Fort Niobrara military reservation, three hundred thousand acres of the forest reserve lands in Grant and McPherson counties are to be thrown open for settlement.

The places to register and the time are North Platte, Broken Bow or Valentine, Neb., from October 13 to 25. The drawing will be at North Platte on October 28. A fourteen months' continuous residence and cultivation is required before deeds are given.

"Never before in the history of land lotteries have people manifested so much interest in land lotteries as at the present time," said Judge James W. Witten of the interior department of Washington, D. C., who will superintend the drawing. "Our office is besieged with inquiries from practically every state in the Union."

Years ago when the government wished to throw open ceded Indian land for settlement a date was set so those who wished to file could do so. It was a case of the first come, first served, and at the appointed time thousands of persons would be lined up awaiting the hour. When the word was given a terrible rush ensued to see who would get the choice claims and these rushes invariably resulted in bloodshed. It got to be might making right, the strong and the fierce element getting the land and the weaker element being forced out.

In order to do away with the strife and bloodshed attending the openings, the present system of allotment known as the land lottery was evolved by Judge J. W. Witten, who has since been in charge of all the land openings. Under the present system there is no chance of unfairness. Each applicant deposits his registration affidavit at the government building in a sealed envelope in a metal container, and after the registration is over all the envelopes are thoroughly mixed and the first one drawn out gets the first choice of land. The first big drawing under that system took place at El Reno, in 1901, and has been in vogue ever since.

One-half of the land is good farm land. The northwest section of the reservation is joined on the north by a corn field which will average from 25 to 30 bushels an acre.

The average field of corn in the territory contiguous to Valentine will average 25 bushels an acre.

THE WORST KIND

REV. G. A. ROBBINS MAKES THAT REMARK ABOUT ARISTOCRACY.

FEARS CASTE ARISING

Sees Danger in New Styles—Effort to Keep Up Causes Many to Become Criminals.

Rev. Grant A. Robbins, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, but now pastor of the Union Methodist Episcopal church of St. Louis, sees danger in the new styles of clothes. The St. Louis Republic had the following about Rev. Robbins' sermon:

"That the caste arising from an aristocracy of wealth in America is more dangerous than the old aristocracies of Europe, was the opinion expressed in a sermon on 'Clothes' by Rev. Grant A. Robbins in the Union Methodist Episcopal church last night."

The danger lies, Dr. Robbins declared, in the fact that the poor, having been taught the principle of equality, struggle to imitate the extravagance of the rich.

"Defaulters and financial wrecks have resulted from this attempt to keep up with the procession of the rich," he said.

"The question of low wages is incidental. Many men go to pieces simply on this struggle to keep up appearances."

"This is peculiarly so in this country, because there is an effort made by many people of wealth to make distinction based solely on dress. They have established an aristocracy of wealth."

Dr. Robbins used as a text the parable of the guest who came to the wedding feast of the king's son without a wedding garment.

He interpreted the symbolical application of the parable, the king represented God, the king's feast the feast of salvation and the man who came without a wedding garment the type who refuses the garment of salvation, who ungratefully comes to the feast without the proper habit or character.

"The dress of a man formerly was known as his habit," Dr. Robbins declared, "and in reality referred to his character or conduct."

"There are thousands who would not present themselves at a fashionable function without the required dress, who would not hesitate to connect themselves with a church, even though they had not the character which the church required."

Dr. Robbins discussed the moral and artistic features of clothes.

"Whatever our opinion is of the story of the fig leaf in Genesis, there must be this thought in every man's mind, that it strikes a vital point. Dress marks the distinction between the savage and the civilized man."

"After the necessity of garments there came the disposition to use dress as a matter of artistic expression."

"That there is danger in this is shown by the extremes to which it has been carried."

SUITS FILED FOR COURT.

One to Construe a Deed and Another One is an Appeal Case From Justice Court.

A suit was filed in Circuit Clerk Rathbun's office on Tuesday by Crawford & Saylor, attorneys, for Lila Steiger and Anna G. Steiger by the curator of her estate, Lila Steiger, ex parte, to construe a deed.

Another suit filed was an appeal case from justice court of James A. Burch vs. Lee Garmen. When the case was tried in Justice R. L. McDougal's court last week, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant. The plaintiff took an appeal to circuit court.

"The Weaker Mind"

Lubin Drama in Two Reels

Another story involving two engineers, but this time in a different way. One is addicted to drink. The other attempts to save him from ruin, and eventually is successful. Bob Glore, "the weaker mind," fascinated by the wiles of Reina Loeb, a drunkard's daughter, sinks deeper and deeper into the mire of dissipation, but the influence of his friend is strong enough to bring him back to the path of right living. A story with a strong moral.

"Her Sweetest Memory"

Vitagraph

A production depicting a working girls' life and is absolutely free from objectionable scenes. A story that will touch the heart and receive the approval of every lover of motion pictures.

The EMPIRE of Course

CASCARETS ALWAYS STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

If Costive, Headachy, Bilious, Stomach
Sour, Breath Bad—Clean Your Liver and Bowels.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have headache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.—Advertisement.

MRS. PANKHURST
TO BE DETAINED
Will Be Held at Ellis Island
Until Board Decides.

Washington, Oct. 14.—When Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant British suffragette, arrives on the liner La Provence Friday she will be detained at the Ellis Island immigrant station, according to present plans, until a special board of inquiry can determine whether she comes within the class of aliens excluded from the United States. While the immigration authorities have issued no orders for her detention, scores of protests against her admission, lodged with immigration headquarters here and with the local authorities at New York, leave no other course open to the authorities.

Officials here say no protest against Mrs. Pankhurst's admission has been received from the society opposed to woman suffrage or from any of its members on behalf of the organization. An equal number of communications protesting against her exclusion have been received.

The controversy which has been stirred up in advance of her landing, officials point out, has created a situation which no single immigration inspector would attempt to handle, and no course remains but to detain the British leader until her case can be passed on by a board of review, as would be done in the case of any other disputed landing.

SCHURM CASE IN HIGH COURT
Convict Found Guilty of Second Murder Appeals.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 14.—The state supreme court today will hear arguments on the appeal of James Schurm, a life convict, on a murder charge, against execution of the death sentence pending against him for another murder.

If the death sentence is sustained, the governor may pardon him for the murder on which he is serving a life sentence, so that the state may carry out the death penalty.

Schurm and his son, Harvey, were convicted of killing Clint Gibson and Montgomery Hall in St. Francois county. Schurm was sentenced to life imprisonment for killing Gibson and to death for killing Hall.

He appealed to the supreme court against the death penalty.

WOLGAST WHIPS NELSON

Has Better of Eight of Ten Rounds in Go With Battler.

Milwaukee, Oct. 14.—Ad Wolgast defeated Battling Nelson in a ten round, no decision, boxing contest at the Elite arena here. Wolgast had the better of eight of the ten rounds, while two were even.

The contest was one of the hardest and fastest ever seen here. Wolgast fought a clean, swift battle and three times had the Dane groggy. He used his left to the chin and right to the face with great force, but the Battler always came back hard.

Sulzer Court in Executive Session.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The high court of impeachment resumed its executive session today and heard arguments as to whether testimony of Duncan W. Peck, Henry Morgenthau and Allan A. Ryan should be considered as a separate charge or as corroborative evidence supporting other charges of impeachment against Governor Sulzer.

Falls 500 Feet to Death.

Keeps Your Stove "Always Ready for Company"

A bright, clean, glossy stove is the pride of every housekeeper. But it is hard to keep a stove nice and shiny unless Black Silk Stove Polish is used. Here is the reason: Black Silk Stove Polish sticks right to the iron. It doesn't rub off or dust off. Its shine lasts four times longer than the shine of any other polish. You only need to polish one-fourth as often, yet your stove will be cleaner, brighter and better looking than it has been since you first bought it. Use on your parlor stove, kitchen stove or gas stove. Go to a can from your hardware or stove dealer. If you do not find it better than any other stove polish you have ever used before, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. But we feel sure you will agree with the thousands of other up-to-date women who are now using Black Silk Stove Polish and who say it is the "best stove polish ever made."

BLACK SILK STOVE POLISH

LIQUID OR PASTE ONE QUALITY

Be sure to get the genuine. Black Silk Stove Polish costs you no more than the ordinary kind. Keep your grates, registers, fenders and stove pipes bright and free from rusting by using BLACK SILK AIR-DRYING ENAMEL. Brush with each can of enamel only.

American Woman Has Great Reason for Gratitude, Says Mrs. Joel Hayden.

"The American woman has, I believe, greater reason for gratitude than any other person in all the world. I knew, just as all American women know, that we are the best positioned women in the world, due to our Christian civilization, but it was not until I went to Poland for a year's stay that I came to realize the deep respect, the honor, the esteem, the reverence and love the American man has for the American woman. And I wish it were in my power to bring to her knowledge the full value of her place in his life and thought."

This is the conclusion of Mrs. Joel Hayden, who arrived in Maryville a few weeks ago from Poland, and will remain a while longer with her mother, Mrs. F. M. Petty.

Rev. Hayden left our city Friday night for Baltimore to receive his appointment for work among the Poles of that city at the hands of the Presbyterian home mission board, under whose direction he and Mrs. Hayden went to Poland for study.

"The Polish peasant woman is the burden bearer for her country. She is used instead of machinery in the fields, and her husband would not even think of carrying so much as the smallest package for her, while leading the way to the market place, or wherever they happened to be going. And many a time have I seen her body bent nearly at right angles with a great heavy basket strapped on her back, while her husband walked tall, straight and complacent before her."

"One day Mr. Hayden had some business with a Polish clergyman, who had translated the Bible into the Polish language and was in the employ of the British Bible society. We met at the market place and he asked us to wait a little while, as he said his wife, who was off making some purchases, would be along presently. By and by she came, loaded down with bundles of various kinds and a large basket filled with things beside."

"Mr. Hayden at once relieved her of as many things as he could, while she protested all the time, and started off with them to their home. Her husband, and he a minister, mind you, did not offer to relieve her of anything, and was visibly annoyed because Mr. Hayden took some of her bundles."

Very soon he asked Mr. Hayden to give the bundles to his wife, because people were laughing and he was attracting attention. But, I am happy to say, Mr. Hayden went right on carrying the bundles, saying it was the American way and that he could not accustom himself to any other way. This minister and his wife had eight children and they live on $200 per year. Don't ask me how they did it, because I do not know."

"We lived in the village Crowsow, province of Galicia, or Ancient Poland. The Protestant church there has a membership of 4,000, all peasants from the entire countryside. We lived in the home of a peasant widow, where we cooked our breakfasts and suppers on her kitchen stove. We took our dinners with the pastor and his wife. This peasant woman was such a thoroughly good and devout woman. She earned and lived on $40 a year. She worked in the field, as all peasant women do, and the man she worked for gave her a strip of land about three feet wide across this field and on this she raised potatoes and cabbage, her living."

"Cabbage and potatoes are the principal diet of the peasants, and they cook them in many ways. Their sauer kraut is much better than what is made here."

"The women get up at 4 o'clock every morning and go to the field, then return and have breakfast about 7 or 8, go to the field again and at 10 have another breakfast of bread, cottage cheese and coffee. Then dinner at noon and to the fields again. They return early and their housework and care of their children are done at these odd times, and they go to bed early."

"The Poles are the greatest lovers of their own country and their own people. There is a deep unrest among them and has been for years. There is not enough land to sustain them, and by the time a piece of land has been divided into strips, a peculiar way of their own, among fathers and sons for four or five generations the question of maintaining a family is indeed serious. They want freedom, and although they have come and are still coming to America by the thousands, it is their one desire to return again to their own country. The average wage a woman receives for her work is 16 cents a day, and a servant in a house receives an average salary of $2 per month, while $3 a month is extra good, and $4 a month is a magnificent salary."

"Their language is not hard to learn. It is phonetic and when you learn their words you can spell them right away and know their meaning."

"The peasants are the good people of Poland. We lived with them to learn their ways and to get their point of view, and they are certainly worth working with."

"The wealthy class in Poland are almost unapproachable. Proud, arrogant, suspicious, they repel every advance of the good intentioned. They are highly cultured, are great churchgoers. They are exceptional linguists and speak eight or ten languages fluently, changing from one to the other easily in ordinary conversation. They are striking in appearance, have beautiful eyes and slender, highly sensitive features of the type of Chopin and Paderewski, and other great masters in music. They are pleasure loving, music loving and patriotic. Yet the Pole of high cast has no more regard for his wife or any other woman than the peasant, but he shows it in a different way. He would not hear regard her as his equal. He gives her the same care and regard that we do a pet kitten. The women are beautiful and highly cultured as a rule and lovely dressers. Yet there is not a law in the country for their protection, peasant or high class."

"The peasant women are fond of gay colors in their dressing and choose the most vivid colors they can find, and you can tell from what province they are by this dress. The young girls and young women are extremely pretty and fresh looking, but their beauty lasts but a short time, for the grind of labor in the fields soon breaks them and they become old while still young in years. The coloring in their dress furnishes the only brightness in the country districts, and the brown and barren looking land makes a good setting for the bright colors they wear."

"The Polish men think much more of the American woman's dress than he does of the native dress of the Polish women, and the first thing he does when he meets her at the New York landing, for nearly all of the peasant women follow their husbands here, is to buy her a dress that she may look as near as possible like an American woman, and he tries as well as he knows how to show the attention American men pay their wives."

There are 2,000,000 Poles in the United States, double the number of any slavish peoples here. In Baltimore, where Rev. and Mrs. Hayden will work, there are 30,000, and the number in Chicago is estimated at 300,000.

These are a few of the things heard a few evenings ago in a conversation with Mrs. Hayden.

TO HAVE CELEBRATION

Birthday is December 10—Her Children, Grandchildren and Great-Grandchildren to Be There.

The children of Mrs. Alma Crowhurst of this city are planning a great celebration for her on December 10, 1913, when she will have reached her 100th birthday anniversary. She is in good health, and regularly observes the English custom in partaking of four meals every day, and enjoys them. The only change her children have noticed in the past few months is that she seems a little weaker from week to week, but she is the same as ever in her interest in her children and grandchildren and bids fair to enjoy the coming celebration. One of her daughters, Mrs. W. B. Frost, and Mr. Frost, arrived last week from Cabool, Mo., where they have been for several weeks attending to the peach crop on their fruit farm, and will remain in Maryville until after Mrs. Crowhurst's birthday party, when they will leave for San Diego, Cal., to spend the winter. Mrs. Crowhurst's other children are Mrs. Martin Shorts, living north of Maryville a short distance, and Miss Polly Crowhurst, who devotes her entire time to caring for her mother. It is the intention of all the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren to be at Mrs. Crowhurst's home the coming 10th day of December.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Sister of Mrs. D. C. Wilson Was on Shipwrecked Launch When It Turned Over in Sea.

Word was received in Maryville by Mrs. D. C. Wilson of the narrow escape her sister, Mrs. George H. Wilson, had from drowning last week when a launch, Balboa, turned over in the sea. The launch was in Newport bay, off the coast near Balboa, Cal.

An account of the accident says that George H. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson were clinging to the disabled launch when a boat came to their rescue. Wilson's head and arm were bruised, but Mrs. Wilson was not injured except being badly frightened. There were twenty passengers on the launch and they all had a narrow escape.

The launch struck a bar in Newport bay, causing it to turn over.

GIVES AWAY MORE FARMS.

The Newest Government Land Lottery Opened on Monday—The Land is in Northwest Nebraska.

Uncle Sam's newest land lottery was opened to the public officially on Monday. At that time those in charge will instruct the notaries to begin acknowledging affidavits for registrants.

Beside the abandoned Fort Niobrara military reservation, three hundred thousand acres of the forest reserve lands in Grant and McPherson counties are to be thrown open for settlement.

The places to register and the time are North Platte, Broken Bow or Valentine, Neb., from October 13 to 25. The drawing will be at North Platte on October 28. A fourteen months' continuous residence and cultivation is required before deeds are given.

"Never before in the history of land lotteries have people manifested so much interest in land lotteries as at the present time," said Judge James W. Witten of the interior department of Washington, D. C., who will superintend the drawing. "Our office is besieged with inquiries from practically every state in the Union."

Years ago when the government wished to throw open ceded Indian land for settlement a date was set so those who wished to file could do so. It was a case of the first come, first served, and at the appointed time thousands of persons would be lined up awaiting the hour. When the word was given a terrible rush ensued to see who would get the choice claims and these rushes invariably resulted in bloodshed. It got to be night making right, the strong and the fierce element getting the land and the weaker element being forced out.

In order to do away with the strife and bloodshed attending the openings, the present system of allotment known as the land lottery was evolved by Judge J. W. Witten, who has since been in charge of all the land openings. Under the present system there is no chance of unfairness. Each applicant deposits his registration affidavit at the government building in a sealed envelope in a metal container, and after the registration is over all the envelopes are thoroughly mixed and the first one drawn out gets the first choice of land. The first big drawing under that system took place at El Reno, in 1901, and has been in vogue ever since.

One-half of the land is good farm land. The northwest section of the reservation is joined on the north by a corn field which will average from 25 to 30 bushels an acre.

The average field of corn in the territory contiguous to Valentine will average 25 bushels an acre.

THE WORST KIND

REV. G. A. ROBBINS MAKES THAT REMARK ABOUT ARISTOCRACY.

FEARS CASTE ARISING

Sees Danger in New Styles—Effort to Keep Up Causes Many to Become Criminals.

Rev. Grant A. Robbins, formerly pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, but now pastor of the Union Methodist Episcopal church of St. Louis, sees danger in the new styles of clothes. The St. Louis Republic had the following about Rev. Robbins' sermon:

"That the caste arising from an aristocracy of wealth in America is more dangerous than the old aristocracies of Europe, was the opinion expressed in a sermon on 'Clothes' by Rev. Grant A. Robbins in the Union Methodist Episcopal church last night."

The danger lies, Dr. Robbins declared, in the fact that the poor, having been taught the principle of equality, struggle to imitate the extravagance of the rich.

"Defaulters and financial wrecks have resulted from this attempt to keep up with the procession of the rich," he said.

"The question of low wages is incidental. Many men go to pieces simply on this struggle to keep up appearances."

"This is peculiarly so in this country, because there is an effort made by many people of wealth to make distinction based solely on dress. They have established an aristocracy of wealth."

Dr. Robbins used as a text the parable of the guest who came to the wedding feast of the king's son without a wedding garment.

He interpreted the symbolical application of the parable, the king represented God, the king's feast the feast of salvation and the man who came without a wedding garment the type who refuses the garment of salvation, who ungratefully comes to the feast without the proper habit or character.

"The dress of a man formerly was known as his habit," Dr. Robbins declared, "and in reality referred to his character or conduct."

"There are thousands who would not present themselves at a fashionable function without the required dress, who would not hesitate to connect themselves with a church, even though they had not the character which the church required."

Dr. Robbins discussed the moral and artistic features of clothes.

"Whatever our opinion is of the story of the fig leaf in Genesis, there must be this thought in every man's mind, that it strikes a vital point. Dress marks the distinction between the savage and the civilized man."

"After the necessity of garments there came the disposition to use dress as a matter of artistic expression."

"That there is danger in this is shown by the extremes to which it has been carried."

Bulb Planting Time

October and November plant Hyacinths, Tulips, Daffodils, Jonquils, Etc., for blooming next spring. Each year these bulbs are becoming more popular and there is nothing more beautiful early in spring than groups or borders of them in the yard or around the house. They require no extra attention after planting in the autumn and their small cost is more than repaid by the quantity and beauty of the blooms each year. We carry a large assortment of bulbs in season, and our prices are very reasonable.

MRS. PANKHURST
TO BE DETAINED

Will Be Held at Ellis Island
Until Board Decides.

Washington, Oct. 14.—When Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant British suffragette, arrives on the liner La Provence Friday she will be detained at the Ellis island immigrant station, according to present plans, until a special board of inquiry can determine whether she comes within the class of aliens excluded from the United States. While the immigration authorities have issued no orders for her detention, scores of protests against her admission, lodged with immigration headquarters here and with the local authorities at New York, leave no other course open to the authorities.

Officials here say no protest against Mrs. Pankhurst's admission has been received from the society opposed to woman suffrage or from any of its members on behalf of the organization. An equal number of communications protesting against her exclusion have been received.

The controversy which has been stirred up in advance of her landing, officials point out, has created a situation which no single immigration inspector would attempt to handle, and no course remains but to detain the British leader until her case can be passed on by a board of review, as would be done in the case of any other disputed landing.

SCHRUM CASE IN HIGH COURT

Convict Found Guilty of Second Murder Appeals.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 14.—The state supreme court today will hear arguments on the appeal of James Schrum, a life convict, on a murder charge, against execution of the death sentence pending against him for another murder.

If the death sentence is sustained, the governor may pardon him for the murder on which he is serving a life sentence, so that the state may carry out the death penalty.

Schrum and his son, Harvey, were convicted of killing Clint Gibson and Montgomery Hall in St. Francois county. Schrum was sentenced to life imprisonment for killing Gibson and to death for killing Hall.

He appealed to the supreme court against the death penalty.

WOLGAST WHIPS NELSON

Has Better of Eight of Ten Rounds in Go With Battler.

Milwaukee, Oct. 14.—Ad Wolgast defeated Battling Nelson in a ten round, no decision, boxing contest at the Elite arena here. Wolgast had the better of eight of the ten rounds, while two were even.

The contest was one of the hardest and fastest ever seen here. Wolgast fought a clean, swift battle and three times had the Dane groggy. He used his left to the chin and right to the face with great force, but the Battler always came back hard.

Sulzer Court in Executive Session.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The high court of impeachment resumed its executive session today and heard arguments as to whether testimony of Duncan W. Peck, Henry Morgenthau and Allan A. Ryan should be considered as a separate charge or as corroborative evidence supporting other charges of impeachment against Governor Sulzer.
